History

Jane Addams

Jane Addams Elementary School was a Tulsa Public school facility named after the late Jane Addams. Jane Addams was known as the Mother of Social Work and was a pioneer and leader in suffrage work in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. She became the first American woman to be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize and is recognized as the founder of the social work profession in the United States.

Gene and Donna Case

The late Gene and his wife Donna Case are known in the Sand Springs and the West Tulsa County areas for their generosity and service to the underprivileged. They spent years working in areas within the church and community running bus routes for kids and serving at Hissom Memorial Center caring for children with mental disabilities.

Matt and Jennifer Blair

Matt and Jennifer Blair have lived in and served the Berryhill community for the last 14 years. After graduating from Berryhill, both Matt and Jennifer spent several years in Oklahoma City receiving their degrees. After 7 years, they moved back to Berryhill to start a church that would become known as a place of refuge for people in need. Matt and Jennifer have always had a heart for creating a place where people could feel loved and valued no matter what their personal story has been.

Present

Jane Addams School Building For Sale

In 2011, the Jane Addams school building was permanently closed as the school district consolidated schools for cost saving measures. Tulsa Public Schools listed Jane Addams for sale and the location is still available for purchase. The list price has been $1,200,000 but recent conversations have suggested the purchase price could be closer to $700,000-$800,000 or less.

The building is a 40,000 sq ft facility that is in relatively poor condition. It would require several hundred thousand dollars to restore and retrofit the location for usability. It is located on 10 acres of land in an area known as Oakhurst.

Oakhurst Demographics

Oakhurst is a non incorporated community in West Tulsa and Eastern Creek Counties. It has a population of 2,700 people with a median household income of $34,000. 47% of households earn less than $35,000 compared to the state average of 41%. The area has many abandoned and dilapidated structures that are in need of demolition and redevelopment. This area is located near the I-44 turnpike gate and is generally seen as a community in need of revitalization.

Industrial Development

Currently, a new industrial park is being built in the immediate area surrounding the Jane Addams building. This development is providing new jobs for the area as well as more direct access to the I-44/I-244 corridor. This development places the Jane Addams building in a prime location to become a center for care and compassion helping people in the local area to receive the restorative care and eventual job training that will enable them to build a better future for themselves and their families.

Future

The Gene and Donna Case Family Center for Care and Compassion

In November of 2018, after spending 18 months in transition, Matt felt impressed to write down the words “The Gene and Donna Case Family Center for Care and Compassion”. These words became a driving force behind revisiting the idea of creating a place of healing and help for people in need. With this in mind, Matt began talking with a team of people who could help make this vision become reality.

The Team

Matt Blair - President/Founder

20 years of leadership in the non-profit sector. Started and led one of the fastest growing ministries in the nation averaging 30% yearly attendance growth and 32% yearly financial growth.

Jennifer Blair - Nurse Practitioner

9 years of Emergency Room nursing experience as a Trauma Nurse at Saint Francis Hospital. Dual certifications as an Advanced Practice Registered Nurse in Family and Acute Care Adult Gerontology and is currently employed with Physician House Calls as a mid-level provider.

Dr Abel Lau - Family Practice Physician

25 years of family practice expertise and is currently employed at the Morton Health Clinic serving the underprivileged.

Alan Bently - Licensed Professional Counselor

10 years of practice expertise including overseeing a non-profit counseling center in Pennsylvania. Currently serving as a critical response LPC for overdose and urgent mental trauma patients.

The Plan

The Gene and Donna Case Family Center for Care and Compassion will be a 501(c)(3) hub location that will include a medical and counseling clinic, fitness center, child care center, restaurant, a life and trade skills learning center, and other compassion-based care centers that will become a centerpiece of daily activities for people living in the West Tulsa and Eastern Creek County areas. This location will be a self-sustaining, surplus revenue creating entity that uses excess financial resources to reinvest in the Oakhurst community and surrounding areas to begin to revitalize and rebuild homes and families.

This Center will be attractive to all levels of socio-economic status and will provide high quality health care and counseling for every person from those who cannot afford to pay to those who have full insurance and financial resources. This facility will serve as a place for the whole family as the full 10 acres will be available for sport teams and community groups to use for their activities and events.

The gymnasium will serve as a place to hold large group meetings such as programs, musicals, and services as well as practice facilities for indoor sports and recreational programs.

The team of leaders will be actively connecting with businesses and local partners to find strategic ways that this center can be of value to their organizations and businesses to improve the quality of life for the people they serve.

The ultimate goal is to see a community revitalized by investing time and resources into individuals, families and physical structures to rebuild and restore health and viability to people and places in the West Tulsa and Eastern Creek County areas.

This care model will allow for facility and staff expenses to be paid for through provider services and membership fees. This means that 100% of charitable contributions made to the Center will go directly to help families in need. This new model will provide the highest quality of care for people from all walks of life while allowing the greatest return on investment from those who financially contribute to help people in need.

Marketing and Operations

This location will have multiple incomes streams available. Pages 8 and 9 show the potential income streams and expenses of running this facility. The primary income streams will be through memberships, insurance reimbursements, and pay for service centers. Members will have full access to all services provided through the Care and Compassion Centers. Insurance reimbursements will be a substantial revenue source for those who are receiving medical or counseling services and do have private insurance or Medicare/Medicaid.

This model could allow for the operation of the medical and counseling clinic to open immediately upon purchase and renovation. Each additional program for The Gene and Donna Case Family Center for Care and Compassion can then be added as funds become available. As noted on pages 8 and 9, there is a one to one correlation between income and expenses with staffing needs directly proportional to members/patients served.

The marketing strategy for this center is to present a picture of a community hub location that provides services to individuals and families where relationships can flourish and people can be holistically healthy. Every marketing stream will be utilized in helping to get the message out to the community, but primary marketing emphasis will be on word of mouth and social media platforms.

With over 40 combined years of community involvement in the Berryhill/Oakhurst/West Tulsa areas, Matt and his team are uniquely qualified and positioned to allow this dream to become a reality. This team is committed to bringing renewal and restoration to people from all walks of life no matter what they have been through.

With over 20 years of non-profit leadership, Matt will bring strong leadership and operational efficiency to allow this Care and Compassion Center to impact thousands of people.

The Need

The current need is for a team of donors to help financially purchase and renovate the Jane Addams building. Each donor would have the opportunity to have naming rights to any part of the physical location that they desire for their resources to be allocated towards. For example, The Jones Medical Clinic, The Smith Early Learning Center, The Williams Family Fitness Center, etc.

Services Provided (Present and Future)

A recent study completed in 2013 showed that the Oakhurst community is lacking in critical social and economic services that would provide an adequate quality of life for its residents. Listed below are services that The Gene and Donna Case Family Center for Care and Compassion will offer to begin to meet these needs in the Oakhurst community. While this list is not exhaustive, it does provide a picture of what can be and will be offered to the Oakhurst community and surrounding areas.

Note - All income and expenses are relative to each other and will fluctuate based on a "services needed to providers needed" ratio. While some operational expenses will be fixed, most will be dependent on the number of people accessing the building on any given week.

Note - There are no rent or mortgage payments included as this facility will be paid for.

Note - Surplus will go to improve living conditions for families in need in the immediate areas including Oakhurst, Berryhill, and Nearby communities, in West Tulsa/Eastern Creek Counties. Surplus may also go to improve the quality of the facilities including adding additional services.
